The Economist

that preliminary conferences would be held before the entire peace party proceeded to Niagara Falls.

The mediating envoys, it was learned later, will return to the White House this afternoon for a conference with the president. It also was stated that the American delegates Justice Lamm and Mr. Lehmann, would be present. The purpose of the conference was not disclosed, but it was believed that some further reason for postponement of formal opening of the Niagara Falls conference might have prompted the meeting.

The delay was arranged at the request of the Brazilian ambassador, Mr. DeCama, in order that the Mexican delegates to the conference, who are speeding northward from Key West today, might not be unduly hurried in their trip to Niagara Falls. The Mexican delegation will reach Washington shortly after noon tomorrow.

Again changing their plans, the mediators returned to the Argentine legation without going to the White House to see the president. It was stated at the White House that the conference had been planned but was later postponed. A conference of the American delegates which had been scheduled with the president later in the day also was postponed until tomorrow. No reasons were announced for the delay on these conferences.

HUERTA DELEGATES LEAVE

ST. AUGUSTINE TODAY
St. Augustine, Fla., May 15.—The Huerta delegates left here at 1:29 p. m. for Jacksonville. They declined to be interviewed.

CABINET STILL EXPRESSES

CONFIDENCE OF RESULTS
Washington, May 15.—Confidence that the mediation would be ultimately successful in bringing about peace in Mexico despite the temporary delay was expressed by cabinet officers after today's meeting.

The shipment of arms into Tampico from foreign ports other than the United States was discussed at the cabinet meeting but one of the cabinet officers in charge of such matters in Mexico despite the temporary delay was expressed by cabinet officers after today's meeting.

The cabinet meeting brought out no vital developments, the decision about policy being brief and general. Secretary Daniels spoke of the apparent return to normal conditions in the Tampico oil fields, saying this has relieved the American government of considerable anxiety.

Secretary Bryan said he had no further word about J. R. Sullivan, the missing American vice consul, and believed he was still in Saltillo. Although the Huerta government has ordered Sullivan's release, there is some doubt here about the ability of Mexican officials to communicate with Saltillo, as the telegraph lines north are said to be interrupted.

Quicked Drives Touring Car

After 20,000 Miles of Service, Over Disputed Sandhill on 3 Cylinders

"In connection with the little friendly controversy going on among advocates of various automobiles in Albuquerque, I notice some big claims made for the Buick 25," said Cortez, of the Buick Auto and Supply company, today. "Among them, that the Buick 25 went up the sand hill near the cemetery yesterday afternoon with seven passengers on board. I also notice that special stress is laid on the fact that the Ford 1 drove in making this hill was a 'skeleton' car."

"This statement is quite true, it should be kept in mind, however, that when I went over this hill the first time the Buick 25 and several other cars had tried it and had failed to make it. I made it when the trail was fresh. In fact I broke the trail. Moreover, Thursday when the Buick made the hill the sand had been packed by a rain the night before. I just want to say that I will make this hill with any Ford car, with regular equipment and with seven passengers, at any time and under any reasonable conditions, and that I would like to get a chance to back the Ford with a bet, car for car, that it will stand up as the equal of any popular priced car, in this or any other test of pulling power or endurance. The Ford is simply there with the goods. We have the car that meets all New Mexican conditions, and at the right price."

"This morning I made this particular sand hill in question, stopped my car in the center of the hill, started again and pulled over the top. In this test I used a stock Ford touring car which had seen twenty thousand miles of service, put it over the hill then backed up and disassembled one of the cylinders, made the hill on three cylinders. I doubt if there is another car of any make in Albuquerque, which had seen 25,000 miles of service, as this car had, which could make this test under these conditions."

FEE'S NOW ONE OF ALBUQUERQUE'S BIG BUSINESS ENTERPRISES

Feed and Seed Man, Starting with Small Store has Extended His Selling Operations Throughout State.

GROWING BUSINESS DEMANDS MORE ROOM

Contracts Let for Addition Which will House Modern Seed and Farm Equipment Departments.

The business of Fee, the Feed Man, is still growing.

The expansion of this business from a small local trade just a few years ago into one of the biggest commercial institutions in New Mexico, with a patronage that covers the southwest, has been remarkable, but it hasn't quit expanding. The seed department of Mr. Fee's establishment, on West Lead avenue, has proved so popular and so rapidly has the demand grown that it has been found necessary to have more room to accommodate new lines. Contracts have been let to the Superior Lumber company and the Hanning Electric company and the addition is now under way. Sufficient space will be furnished for a sample room for the advantageous display of incubators, brooders, all kinds of bee supplies, spraying outfits and everything the amateur or poultryman needs. In addition to the enlarged supply of seeds which will be kept in stock. The addition will be well lighted and roomy and conveniently arranged. The extra space has been much needed and will place Mr. Fee in much better position to handle the increasing business.

This increase has been the natural result of experience and business-like methods of catering to the seed trade. Thirty years of handling seeds as producer and merchant has given Mr. Fee a pretty keen insight into the business, and experience has fully demonstrated that dependable seeds, the kind that grow, are the kind that people are going to buy. A thorough study of the climatic and soil conditions of this part of the country enables this firm to know exactly what will best produce here. Seeds from the east are likely to be entirely unsuited to the New Mexico climate. To sell seeds you must know seeds and Mr. Fee knows them, so to speak, from the ground up.

A one-price system, always rigidly adhered to, and the discovery that merchandise is always prettier as represented, have given the public confidence in Fee's seeds—another secret of the steady growth of the business. Scientific management, with every convenience for the proper and expeditious handling of every line of stock has also been an important factor in giving satisfaction to the public. The house is so well systematized that orders which would require weeks to get filled in the east are filled here in ten minutes. The storage capacity of the plant is immense, all in one establishment on Mr. Fee's own premises, designed and built especially for the business, at 212-214-216 West Lead avenue, Albuquerque, New Mexico. If you will send in your name you will be promptly supplied with an illustrated catalogue. It is free—and you will find it mighty interesting and profitable reading.
